LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS, SHERIFF WRANGLE OVER NIGHT JAILER

A minor feud between the League of Women Voters and Sheriff Egloff seemed brewing this week over the appointment of a night jailer in the county jail.

Mrs. Ernest C. Samuel, representing the League, had spoken to Egloff earlier in the week following a recommendation by the League and the Grand Jury to appoint a night jailer.

According to Mrs. Samuel, the Sheriff sent her to the Board of Supervisors who sent her back to the sheriff who again said it was up to the Board. Mrs. Samuel wrote to Egloff of the matter in a letter made public.

Egloff told the Echo that there are more factors involved than are apparent and that following further investigation an appointment would be made.

In her letter to the Sheriff, Mrs. Samuel said:

"In continuance of our conversation the other day concerning the appointment of a night jailer, I wish to put in writing the following facts:

"When, following the recommendation of the Grand Jury that a night jailer be appointed for the Hancock County jail, no such appointment was forthcoming, I attended a meeting of the Board of Supervisors to inquire if it were not customary for recommendations of the Grand Jury to be recognized.

"I then asked why no night jailer had been appointed and was told it was the duty of the sheriff to appoint such a jailer.

"I then said I had asked the same question of the sheriff and he had said he could make no appointment without being so instructed by the Board of Supervisors.

"Since this smacked of the old run-around and could bounce back indefinitely between the Board and the Sheriff, I took the question to the attorney for the county. His answer was unequivocally simple. According to the law of the state of Mississippi it is the duty of the Sheriff to appoint jailers and the duty of the Board of Supervisors to pay them.

"Since this is a matter concerning the public, I am sending a copy of this letter to the President of the Board of Supervisors and to the newspapers."

Sheriff Egloff seemed peeved at the affair. He indicated that appointing a jailer was not as simple as it seemed.

"I've got to worry about qualifications," he said. "And a lot of people have asked me for the job already."

"I'll have to investigate all the qualifications before I make an appointment. I called Mrs. Samuel and told her that today."

Mrs. Samuel said she found Egloff's reply "very encouraging."

"I think he's sincere about the delay," she said, "so I guess it's alright. If the appointment is made before the next grand jury meeting in March, I think that would be plenty of time."

Incidents occurring at night while the prisoners were left unattended caused the League to support the appointment of a night jailer. The prisoners are left without any surveillance or supervision and trouble among them happens occasionally.

Danger of fire or other disasters while the prisoners are locked up also prompted the League and Grand Jury to suggest the appointment.

First Aid School Set By Red Cross

The Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross will hold first aid classes for instructors here beginning next Monday with Earl Hollowell, safety representative, directing the classes.

The classes will start at 7 p. m. in the Coast Electric Power Association Building on Highway 90. Only specification for attending is that the student have a current advanced Red Cross first aid certificate.

Hollowell, a safety expert from Atlanta, is attached to the Southeastern Area for the Red Cross. An expert in aquatics, he has spent about five years in teaching water and first aid safety.

In 1953 he was named director of safety for the American Water Ski Association.

Hollowell will offer both a refresher and advancement course for Red Cross first aid. It is hoped that enough instructors will result from the school so that first aid training may spread in the county.

Kenneth Whitfield, chairman of the Hancock County First Aid and Water Safety committee for the Red Cross, emphasized that the need for trained, competent instructors in first aid is critical.

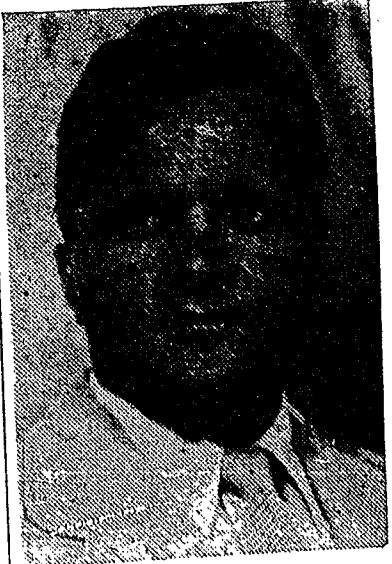

"Except for the doctors, we don't have enough people in the county who know first aid to survive in case of a disaster strike," he said.

"We hope that we can pick up each first aid in every nook in the county," Whitfield continued.

The classes will be held Monday through Friday and will last approximately three hours a night. The Red Cross expects the police, fire and civil defense departments to benefit from the training school. It was also pointed out that New Orleans expects to depend on surrounding towns like Bay St. Louis in case of emergency attack.

"Because of this," Whitfield added, "it's imperative that we train as many people in first aid as is humanly possible."

All persons interested in signing up for the school are asked to contact either Whitfield of the local Red Cross Chapter office in the Courthouse building.

Night Fire In Clermont Causes Damage

A fire from an undetermined source resulted in heavy damage to the home of Mrs. Gertrude Robinson in Clermont Harbor Sunday night.

The fire was extinguished by the Waveland Volunteer Fire Department.

The house is located on Forest Avenue in Clermont Harbor. There was speculation that the fire was caused by electric and telephone wires touching.

Mrs. Robinson was unavailable for comment as she was out of town. The exact amount of damage was not known.

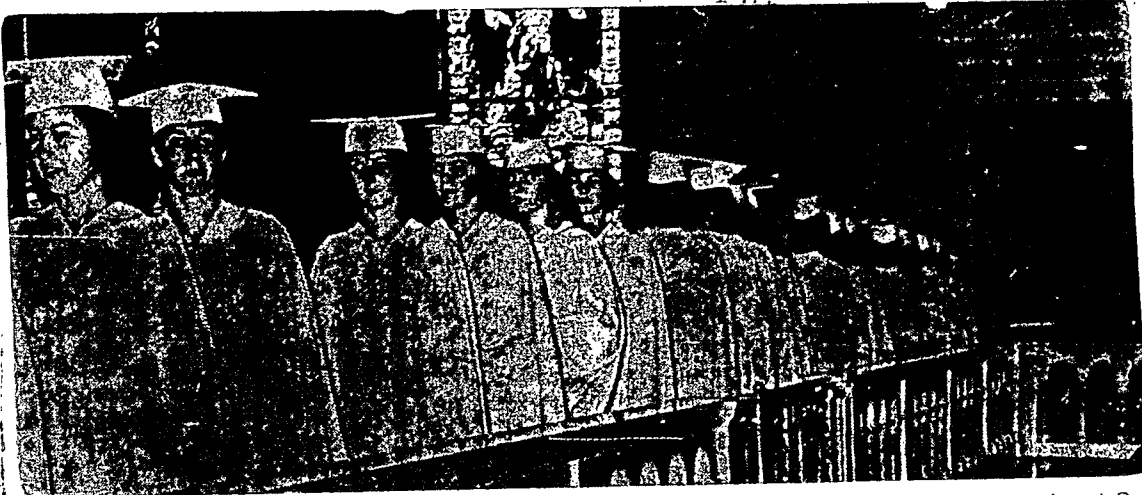

It was not known whether the house was insured.

Tries Bluffing Sheriff's Men, Found AWOL

A Missouri youth who bragged about his connections with the home town sheriff was picked up here for being absent without leave from the Marine Corps.

The youth, Leonard Phillips, 18, was picked up Saturday night on Highway 90 by Sheriff's deputies Sam Peterson and John Kachler for questioning.

Phillips told the deputies to call Sheriff Clay Hodges of Ozark, Mo. in order to clear himself quickly.

The local Sheriff's office contacted Hodges who immediately informed them that Phillips had been AWOL from the Marines in San Diego for four months.

When brought back into the Sheriff's office here, Phillips admitted he was only trying to bluff his way through the jam.

Four Families To Move In New Houses

At least four families are expected to move into the Housing Authority's new homes this week.

George Heitzmann, director of the housing authority said today.

A few houses are still open. Heitzmann added, but most of the families are expected to be moved in to the homes within the next month.

The four families moving in this week will be those of Mrs. Cleo T. Strong, Mrs. James Hill, Mary Elizabeth Starks and Alvina Nichols.

The new projects have units for both colored and white. Modern conveniences and facilities are part of the design.

Heitzmann said all the tenants could not move in at once. Moving will be done in about groups of six, he said.

Mrs. Snedecker's New Book To Be Published

Mrs. Caroline Dale Snedecker will have her 13th book, "A Treasure for Flavius," published sometime next fall, it was announced this week.

The book, which puts the noted children's author over the dozen mark in published volumes, was accepted recently by Lathrop, Lee and Shepard, New York publishers.

"A Treasure for Flavius" is a story of a Roman boy who lived about three centuries before Christ. In the story he is presented with a gift of a Greek slave his father brings home from a war.

The plot is taken up with the influence of this cultured slave on his young master.

Mrs. Snedecker's other books have been mainly concerned with Greek and Nantucket locales. Many of these are on selected reading lists of school libraries.

BIBLE CLASS MEETS

A very pleasant evening was spent Nov. 23 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wyman for the 56th wedding anniversary, by the ladies of the aMin St. Methodist Church. Potted plants and flowers were sent by them. Mrs. Wyman wore a beautiful corsage presented by Mrs. W. A. McDond.

PRISON LIFE IS VERY DRAB; FOR RECREATION THERE'S THE WHIP

do you think you could stand it? At Parchman there is no court of appeal. There is no channel of redress for a minute to secure justice. The administration of each camp is in the hands of the sergeant.

There is only one core of ethics and that code belongs to him. If you are accused of breaking the rules and you plead innocent, you are whipped for calling the sergeant a liar.

On Sunday all inmates must attend church. That was a rule made after I had been there three years. The reason the attendance had fallen so low at religious service was because the Pastor told the State Legislature that Parchman would not be run without the whip.

This teacher of humanitarian principle of Christ was advocating the administration of torture on the human bodies of those unable to help themselves. He lost the respect the vast majority of the inmates. So in order to show the proper attendance records to the powers that be, proving his ministrations were successful, they passed the rule that all men must attend service.

Then the line is called to the yard and there the various details are counted out for the day's work. At the crack of dawn you march to the fields. They have a system of putting a fast man on each end of the working line. These are called the "lead" and "count" men.

Called the "swing," and woe to those men in the swing that can't keep up with the lead and the count.

The Sergeant comes out to the field. And if the swing is a little behind, he draws a line. Every man behind that line gets whipped. I have seen "Doughbilly" Webb call the line and whip as many as 18 men in the morning, and 10 or 12 in the afternoon.

Under "Doughbilly" Webb, if you cut a row with a lot of grass, you were sure to get the leather. It was not a question how hard the task. The mere fact that you were a certain distance behind the lead and count men was reason enough for Webb to throw the leather.

You are laid out flat on the ground. Your pants are stripped down. And the sergeant stands over you and throws the whip with all his strength. When it contacts your nude body it is just like someone has poured a load of hot lead on you. I have seen of horrible pain. He not only suffers, he must listen to the laughter, and the taunts of the man inflicting it.

I may be wrong, but it is my honest opinion that no man could remain a camp sergeant without having sadistic impulses.

At no time are you allowed to forget the leather. On every pre-empted the leather, the driver, the trusty, or sergeant threatens you with it.

When a man who has never picked cotton before in his life does not make the quota, he is called into the hall spread on the concrete floor and whipped. I have stood at men and boys cut their heel strings with a razor blade to get away from the punishment.

Just picture yourself working on a job where at all times there was a driver warning you that the sergeant would soon be there and he would have the thing on his saddle to make you keep up. Just imagine that being done every day for months and years. How long

Boy Fears Cops, Places Life In Jeopardy

A youth who had an unfounded fear of the police placed his own life in jeopardy here last week when he tried to run away from a harmless talk with two sheriff's deputies.

The youth, Willie Parker, of Kiln, was driving a borrowed truck near Third St. when Deputies Sam Peterson and John Kachler approached to tell him that the license tag on the truck was improper.

But when Parker saw the sheriff's car start after him, he accelerated his vehicle. Peterson and Kachler, growing suspicious, began to follow.

The youth, traveling at a high rate of speed, thought he had outdistanced the police. He stopped and turned off his lights on a dirt street.

But Peterson and Kachler found him. The youth started up again and raced out on to Highway 90. "He was going about 90 miles an hour," Peterson said, describing the incident. "Our siren was going full blast and the red light was on."

"We tried to make him pull over. We even shot over the top of the truck, trying to make him come to a stop."

"We were afraid to shoot at his tires, because he was going so fast he would have probably turned over," Peterson continued.

Finally the deputies pulled along side of the truck. Parker pulled the truck over to the side.

But when the deputies started to get out of their car, Parker started the truck, turned around and headed for the Kiln highway.

He drove the truck off the highway, into the woods where he abandoned it. The deputies brought the truck in at about 10:15 p. m.

Soon they found out that the truck belonged to Leonard Frederick of Kiln. Frederick had loaned the truck to his son who in turn had loaned it to Parker.

When they questioned the youth later, he admitted he was just scared and didn't know why he ran away.

The deputies finished the case at 4:30 A. M.

A movement is underway to invite Georgia Tech or its opponent in the Sugar Bowl football game to hold their pre-game trainings here, city officials announced today.

Commissioner Sylvan Ladner said he was trying to get in touch with Bro. Roland of St. Stanislaus to see if he would permit one of the college teams to use the Stanislaus facilities.

Brother Roland was out of town. Ladner said he thought Bay St. Louis had a very good chance of getting one of the teams to train here.

"Seven Sugar Bowl teams have rained here before," he said. "I think if we give them the proper facilities they'll come."

It was also pointed out that the teams used to train at the Gulf Coast Military Academy, but recently that school has been closed. Last year Georgia Tech trained at Biloxi. But the Stanislaus field, because it is better fenced, is better for a Sugar Bowl team.

The first Sugar Bowl team to train here was Santa Clara, which liked it so much it returned. The last was Boston College in 1941.

Right now the Mid-Winter Sports Association, which sponsors the Sugar Bowl classics in New Orleans, has named only Georgia Tech as one of its bowl teams. The other team is expected to be announced shortly.

Last year Ole Miss, Georgia Tech's opponent, trained at home since the traveling time between there and New Orleans was so slight.

Getting another Sugar Bowl team to train here would help Bay St. Louis a lot," Ladner said. "A great deal of national publicity would follow."

Major John Scalfie, who is recuperating at home, is behind the plan. Scalfie was an outstanding player for Tulane University when that team played in the Rose Bowl game.

Mr. Ashton, athletic director of St. Stanislaus, said he saw no reason why the Sugar Bowl team could not use the Stanislaus facilities. However, he said the final decision would be made by Bro. Roland, head of the school who was very much interested in the plan.

He indicated that his Reed Hotel could not handle the past war teams, since so many married men were on them.

But because the colleges have younger men on them in the last few years, he said, he thought that the Reed would have ample facilities.

Major John Scalfie is a personal friend of Tech Coach Bobby Dodd, and plans to talk to him about setting up camp in Bay St. Louis.

County Seeks Two-Way Radio For Sheriff

A notice to bidders was released by the county today for a two-way radio for Sheriff John Egloff's office.

All bids for supplying the two-way radio equipment for "the Sheriff's office of Hancock County and other Deputies" must be in by January 4, the notice said.

The need for the two-way radio has been stressed recently by Sheriff Egloff, his deputies and Justice of the Peace Nelius Rhodes. It was established that quicker, more efficient police and accident service could be given the public.

The notice to bidders was published this week in Section 1 of the Echo.

Alcoholics Anonymous Opens Here

Alcoholics Anonymous, an informal society of former problem drinkers, announces the formation of a local group to meet weekly in Bay St. Louis.

This fellowship has no dues, rules and regulations and which is completely non-denominational and non-political.

The only qualification for membership is an honest desire to stop drinking. AA's only function is the restoration of the sick alcoholic to a useful and happy life and the protection of his her anonymity.

Meetings in Bay St. Louis will be held each Friday night at 8:00 p. m. commencing November 27 in the County Court House. The first meeting will be closed to all but alcoholics, their wives and people who feel they may have such a problem. Later, the local group hopes to inaugurate a fortnightly or monthly open meeting at which guest speakers will preside.

Attendance at these open meetings will include any members of the clergy, agencies of education and law enforcement as well as members of the general public who have a direct or indirect interest in the rehabilitation program of the alcoholic.

The Homemaking Department was the scene of a colorful flower arrangement demonstration Thursday.

Mrs. L. T. Boyd, of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club, demonstrated flower arrangement with chrysanthemums and shrubs emphasizing every flower arrangement with a focal point. Other points of emphasis were difference in symmetrical and asymmetrical arrangement. Never have two flowers the same length, the light color and the small flowers go at the top, and containers play an important part in making a pleasing flower arrangement.

A Thanksgiving fruit arrangement was made as well as some Christmas suggestions with candles.

The 66 girls observing the demonstration were anxious to try their hand, which they had an opportunity to do later during the day.

Everyone from the seventh grade to the twelfth grade was in a turmoil last week, trying to get their homeroom decoration ready for the parade Friday night. The cheerleaders sponsored the contest and a surprise award was to be given to the winner.

Miss Blaise's homeroom Juniors won first place. They had a demonstration 'Demon' hanging from a lynching post and a Tiger smiling satisfactorily under him saying, "I cannot tell a lie. I did it." The Juniors put out plenty of work on their decoration and were overjoyed at winning. Jerry Bienvenu painted the signs and Tiger. Other members of the class helped with the rest of the decorations.

The second place winner was Miss Hall's sophomores. Their decoration consisted of an ironed out "Demon" hanging from a sign made by Carol Landers, who put a lot of work on it. They also had a tiger portrayed by Clara Lee Ketchum surrounded by three angles.

Mayor John Scaffide was advised today by the Jackson office of the Mississippi Municipal Association, of which Bay St. Louis is a member, that a delegation of 50 Mississippi mayors and other municipal officials will attend the 1953 Congress of the American Municipal Association to be held in New Orleans, Dec. 1, 2, and 3.

Bay St. Louis will be represented at the conference by Commissioner J. Cyril Glover.

According to Mayor Scaffide more than 1000 municipal officials from all over America will attend the New Orleans sessions of AMA which represents over 7000 cities and towns.

Mississippi Hearing Center, Jackson, Mississippi, will have one of their Consultants visit Bay St. Louis and vicinity in the very near future. Anyone having a hearing loss will be able to see and try the new Canal Earphone. This instrument is used in conjunction with the new Transistor aids and fits down into the ear. It can be fitted on the spot and so that there will be no ear piece or receiver to irritate the ear.

Anyone desiring to have a thorough and complete hearing test is urged to write Mississippi Hearing Center, 506 E. Capitol, Jackson, Miss., so that arrangements can be made for them to see and try this new electronic hearing instrument. The combined weight is less than four ounces.

A "Dead" Wire Came to "Life"?

If something was so simple as to be able to see a picture of a woman on a television set, it would be a great thing. But it is not so simple. Unique Adjustment Administered By Remote Control

A Chicago business man called his doctor the other morning and said something fearful was wrong with his back. The doctor suggested he come down to the hospital for a thorough examination and made a morning appointment. The man and his wife began to drive to the hospital, but were brought up sharply on the Outer Drive when struck from the rear by another automobile. The man barely had time to make his appointment, so he decided to catch a cab and leave his wife to get names, licenses, and the other placatory details. As he climbed into the cab, he realized that the job of the accident had wrecked his back into good condition again. A realization which his doctor later confirmed.

An hour or so later he caught up with his wife. "Do you know what it was that bumped me?" she asked. "A chiropractor," he replied.

REMEMBER?

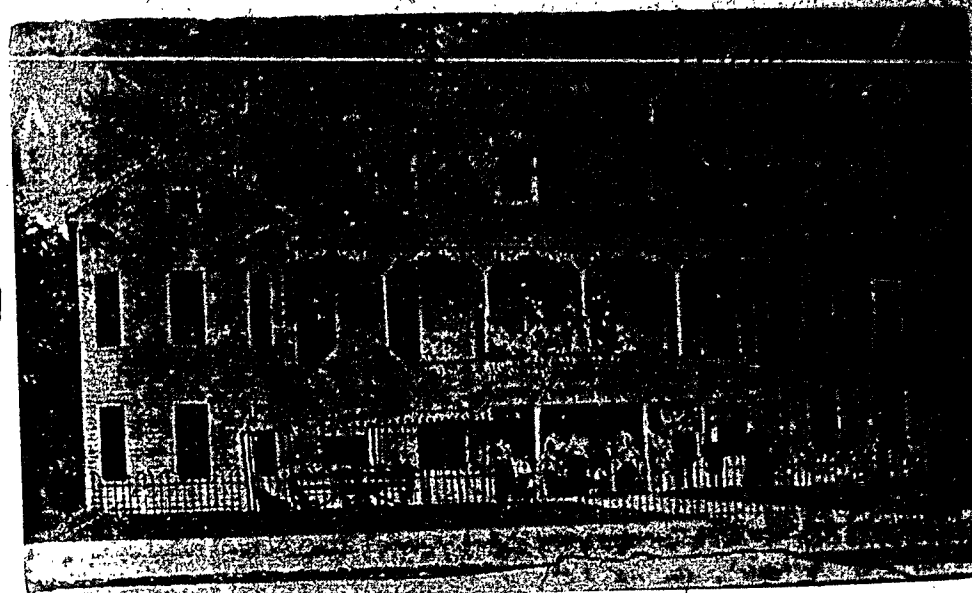

Here are some shots from the old days, from a collection owned by Vincent Lagroue of Bay St. Louis. Do you remember these scenes? If so you're older than you look.

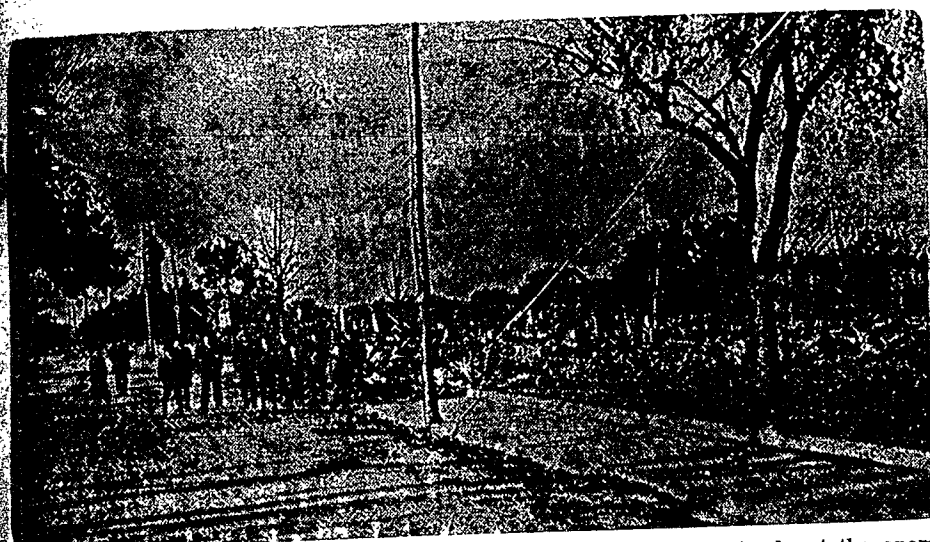

This was John Osinich's Bay Mercantile Company and Opera House. The store was on the first floor. The opera house was upstairs.

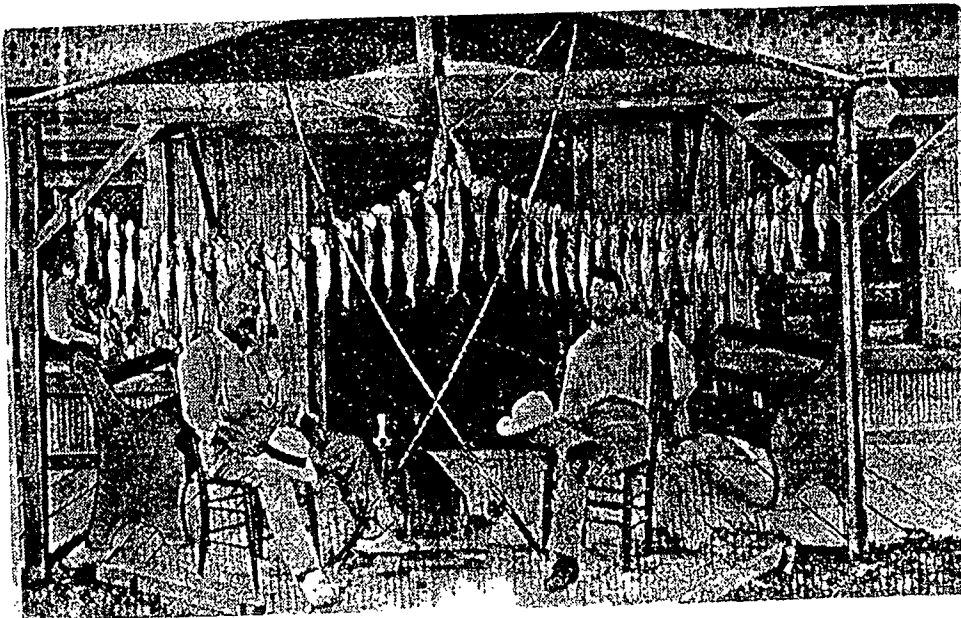

This was an oyster cannery, which came before the shrimp cannery, which came before the yacht club. All were on the present yacht club site.

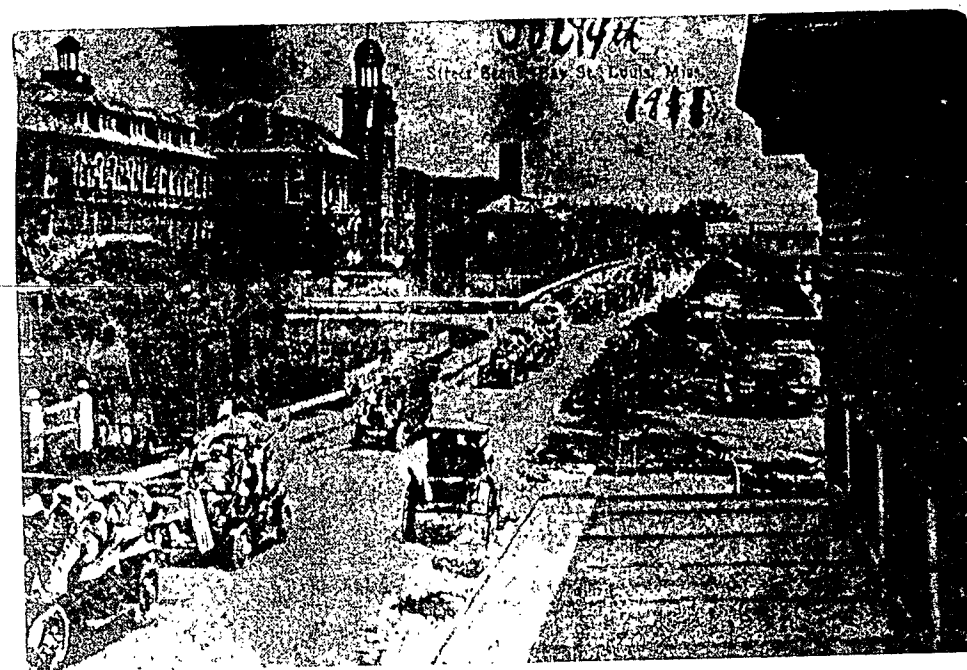

The old Clifton Hotel, taken in 1906. This was near the Merchants Bank.

This is the crowd which gathered the morning after a fire wiped out the opera house, the Clifton Hotel and St. Joseph's Academy in 1907.

A fine catch was a fine catch, even 50 years ago.

LETTERS TO SANTA CLAUS

Write to Santa Claus, North Pole, care of Sea Coast Echo, Box 230, Bay St. Louis.

Dear Santa,

Christmas is coming soon and I was thinking of what I would get for Christmas. And I would like a woodburning set, and a Peter Pan moulding set, that is all far now. I guess that's all. Your friend

Donna Louise Peirce III

9 years old

Dear Donna,

I'll be dropping in on you Christmas eve if you're a very good girl. And remember to be very careful with your wood-burning set.

Santa.

Dear Santa,

I am 4 years old and don't know how to write but my Aunt Bet is helping me.

I have been a good boy.

I want a bike with a mirror on it. A tennis set. A football and some games.

My little sister Pam wants a doll.

I thank you Santa

Jimmy Loiacano.

That was real nice of your Aunt Bet to help you write to old Santa. You certainly want lots of nice things and Santa will try to take care of all of them for you.

Love,

Santa.

Dear Santa,

I am a little boy, four years old and I've been a very good helper to my mommy. I would like for you to bring me an electric-train with a whistle and a very big tunnel. I would also like for you to bring me a wagon so I can ride my little cousin, Shirley Jo, and of course, some candies, fruit and nuts.

I'll have a hot cup of chocolate waiting for you on the night before Christmas.

Until next year, please don't disappoint me. Thank you

Sonny Haas.

Dear Sonny,

I'll bring you the electric train if you've been very good from now until Christmas.

Love,

Santa.

Dear Santa,

I am seven years old and a very good little girl. I help my aunt wash and dry dishes and do a little house work.

MORE LETTERS TO SANTA NEXT WEEK

Miss. Power Wins Award

A first place award and a third place award have been won by Mississippi Power Company in the National Safety Contest sponsored by the National Safety Council, S. L. Muths, vice president and general manager of the Company announced this week.

Don McCulloch, Supervisor of Safety for the Company, reported that the truck fleet had operated a total of 222,345 miles during the contest without a reportable accident. The passenger fleet operated 1,385,697 miles with a total of six minor accidents reported. Under contest rules, all accidents, except when the vehicle is properly parked, are reportable.

Also, in New Orleans for a family Thanksgiving gathering, were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Charbonnet, who are now dividing their time between their camp at Lakeview and an apartment on Jeanette Street in New Orleans. Their host was Paul Charbonnet, the well-known New Orleans architect, whose guests included his twelve grandchildren.

Virginia and Donald Halsey and their children, Adair, Elizabeth and John, spent not only Thanksgiving Day but the whole week, including two week ends at their Waveland home.

Out on the Jourdan River,

Ed and Louise Lasker and Magdalena and Anna Marie Fischer celebrated their Thanksgiving at their cottage on the Coast. In addition to the turkey and all the fixings there were the traditional pumpkin and mince meat pies but what pies. They were twelve inches across and two inches high. Home made, and the recipes tested these many years.

Harry and Jack Kelleher and their children celebrated Thanksgiving at their Jourdan River home.

The Howard Perrillats and their daughter, Leigh, came over the day before Thanksgiving for a long week end. Their guests were Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Soniat and their children, Regina and Sidney Jr.

At the Allgeyers, Becky and Ed Gilly with their children Jim, Rebekah and Ricky and Betty and Gerald Kennedy, Jr., and their children, Basil and Rita, will take their turkey with another recipe for oyster and pecan dressing but this one is flavored with brandy. The real problem here is how to divide two drumsticks between five children.

Thanksgiving Day dinner at Genevieve Lacey Richeson's cottage means a house full. Between family and friends there are always fifteen or twenty plates on the buffet table. The dessert this year, one of their favorites, was plum pudding with a delicious hard sauce made by Lacey, her and the brandy burning sauce. It is quite a spectacle to the cook and helpers always to the door to watch.

Just before Thanksgiving Gayle Aikens were hosts to distinguished guest, Mr. McLean, of Sydney, Australia, representative of the Ministry of Education. He is also editor of a magazine, New Horizons in Education, published in Australia on a world tour on a Foundation Grant to study education. In the States, he has visited in New York, Chicago, Detroit, In Europe, Denmark, Norway and Scotland are on the list. Not the least part of his work will be in South Africa.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Samuel are setting a long table for Thanksgiving. Their guests will be Constance and Harry man of New Orleans; Sigmund and Billy Richeson; Cynthia and Billy Richeson; Charles and Elizabeth Ann Gilly, Al and Edith Weinberg, and Mrs. Wilson Mittleberger.

Thanksgiving

This is a day on which we all pause and give thanks. It is truly an American holiday, and it should be. For Americans have so much to be thankful for.
The Pilgrims launched Thanksgiving as thanks for a safe voyage across the Atlantic and their victory over the ravages of the wild new world. But today we have something more precious than mere safety. We have freedom.
Few ever appreciate freedom—until they lose it. And then it's too late. Few ever think to fight for it—until it is gone. As the world of Hitler and Mussolini and Stalin can tell you, freedom doesn't come in one swoop. It is pried away from you, bit by bit. Most people ignore the bits, until their entire freedom is gone.
We have freedom in this country, but there are some who would take it away, bit by bit. They play on fears. They conjure up dragons, some real... some partially real... some entirely fictitious. America must not be fooled by them. We must protect our freedom from all enemies—from the enemies on the outside, and from the enemies on the inside as well.
We give our thanks today for freedom. We want our children and grandchildren to be able to do so the same.

Be Careful And Courteous

It's nice to zip along in a speed boat. But it's also nice to fish in a leisurely skiff. There's plenty of water around here—room for all.
You speeders owe a little courtesy to the fishermen. When you pass them, slow down. You're not in such a hurry that you'll scare away the fish—or spill the fishermen into the drink.

Beware

There have been some mighty close calls recently because of bikes without lights. This is especially dangerous at dusk. It's up to the parents to see that those bikes get lights, and to warn their youngsters to show special care after sundown.

Seeks To Give Teachers Money

In spite of the fact that approximately 22,000 teachers, who were members of the former Teachers' Retirement System, have received their refund checks covering the contributions which they had made to the former Teachers' Retirement System, there are still approximately 4,000 teachers, who were formerly members of the Mississippi Teachers' Retirement System, who have not received their refund checks.

The Public Employees' Retirement System, 1107 Woolfolk State Office Building, Jackson, Mississippi, is holding these checks totaling more than $400,000 awaiting notification of the proper addressees to which they should be mailed. If any teacher, who was formerly a member of the Teachers' Retirement System, has not received her refund check, she should notify the Public Employees' Retirement System and should furnish them with her proper mailing address.

Gibson Speaks To Pass P.-T. A.

"Going to College" was the subject of a talk given by Mr. Joseph Gibson, vice president and director of admissions of Tulane University, to members and guests of the Pass Christian P. T. A. at their regular meeting Thursday night.

Mr. Gibson said that furthering one's education was the second most important decision in the lives of the young people today. The first, of course, is marriage. There are many scholarships available, he stated, and everyone has the opportunity of going to college.

In conclusion, Mr. Gibson urged the young people to seek advice from their parents, the superintendent or principal of their high school, and from the colleges themselves. Mr. and Mrs. Gibson entertained at a dinner meeting and refreshments served afterwards.

...if there were only
ONE telephone
in the world

If you had the only telephone in the world, you couldn't use it. There would be nobody else you could call.

The value of a telephone is in the great number of people you can reach with it. You can talk with almost anyone, anywhere—quickly, easily and at low cost.

Last week the number of telephones in this nation passed the 50,000,000 mark. That's more than there are in all the rest of the world. It figures out to about one telephone for every three people in this country.

Most of these telephones are served by local Bell Companies like Southern Bell. Nearly 9,000,000, however, are operated by 5300 other companies.

In no other nation is the telephone so available, so useful and so low in cost.

FAST GROWTH IN DIXIE...

The number of telephones in the areas served by Southern Bell has jumped from 1,863,204 at the beginning of 1946 to more than 4,200,000 today.
